100,000 Men Hurlled At British

TEUTONS IN DESPERATE ATTACK AT CAMBRAI BEATEN

BERLIN, Dec. 3 (via London)—Since Friday the Germans have captured 6000 British prisoners in the Cambrai region, the German general staff announced today.

LONDON, Dec. 3—German forces switched their attacks to the northern side of the Cambrai salient during the night and assaulted the British positions around Moeuvres, but were unable to gain any additional ground, the War Office announced today.

The attacking Germans were hurled back, leaving a number of prisoners and 12 machine guns.

South of Cambrai the Germans have made a concentrated effort to break through the British lines on the southern edge of the salient, near which the British and French armies join on the northern end of the front.

Some ground was taken by the Germans at a terrible cost in human life, and the British were compelled to give up the village of Masnières, but the Germans failed to achieve their main objective.

Coincident with the battle at Cambrai, there has been another flareup of fighting on the West Flanders front, near Passchendaele Ridge, where heavy artillery duels have been in progress for a week.

Field Marshal Haig's men drove forward, making some gains of a local nature on the northern end of the famous Passchendaele Ridge and there were indications that a big action might develop in that sector.

An indication of the fury of the struggle is shown by the fact that some artillery changed hands three times.

The artillery was to be used to protect the infantry against British tanks.

Despite the numerous attacks which the Germans have directed against the British positions, the

ITALIAN LINES ARE SECURE FROM HUN ATTACK

ITALIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN NORTHERN ITALY, Sunday, Dec. 2—Heavy firing has occurred on the northern line in the last twenty-four hours, in different sectors around Monte Pertica, between the Brenta and Piave rivers and on the Maletta range, running west of the Brenta. Each of the opposing forces holds part of these positions. The general condition along the entire Italian front has improved distinctly in the last week. The defensive positions on the northern line are now considered as secure as those along the Piave. This, with the gathering strength of the Italian and allied forces, has relieved the gravity of the situation. Northeastern Italy is now enclosed within a powerful barrier on the northeast and east, which is considered sufficient to hold the enemy.

REGISTRANTS MUST KEEP POSTED ON STATUS

The local exemption board is in receipt of a telegram this afternoon from Provost Marshal General Crowder, urging the members of the board to impress it forcibly on the minds of registrants to send in their present address to their local boards without delay, so that they may receive the questionnaires which will be mailed to them the 15th of the current month without delay.

Registrants, according to the provisions of the law are required to keep themselves advised of all proceedings relative to their status with the Draft Act and failure to do so may result in losing their right to claim exemption or discharge.

In other words, the government is not responsible to the individual if he does not get his mail. The questionnaires will be mailed to the last known address and then the responsibility of the local exemption board ceases.

This is a matter of vital importance to the individual and not to the government and it behooves every man subject to draft to keep in touch with the local draft board. If you do not get your copy of the questionnaire shortly after the 15th of December, call at the local draft headquarters and ascertain the reason for the delay.

MASON FUNERAL WAS HELD THIS AFTERNOON

The funeral of Edward Mason, who died at his home Saturday evening at 583 Ninth street, was held today at the Smallwood undertaking parlors and the remains were deposited at the Oakland Crematorium.

ENGINEERS OF U. S. HELP BRITISH TO REPEL THE GERMANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3—The War Department today was without official word of the fighting reported in the press dispatches from France engaged in by certain units of the American engineers. It is expected that an official report will come along later from General Pershing.

The units engaged were members of one of the ten regiments of railway employees organized at the outset by the War Department to construct and operate railroads behind the western war front. For weeks these men have been constructing railways and moving supplies directly up to the firing line behind the British, French and American fronts under severe shell fire from the big German guns. Although trains have been destroyed and many yards of roadbed and rails demolished, up to the present time these engineers have met with no casualties.

Since they have been in France they have repaired hundreds of miles of track and have laid railways right up to the main battle line. Official reports received here, which have been withheld from publication, show that in advance of the British around Cambrai, the American railway engineers, presumably the same ones engaged in the fighting now reported by cable, constructed railways and operated cars as the fighting progressed, keeping their advance line right up to the fighting forces of the British.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Saturday, Dec. 1—American army engineers working in the region of Gouzeaucourt joined the fighting ranks of their British allies yesterday and helped them stem the

TO MAKE UP RICHMOND'S SHORTAGE

According to advices from American Lake received by telegraph today by the local exemption board, thirty-four men were discharged by the United States army surgeons from this city, which means that we are indebted to Camp Lewis just that number of men, plus the excess of fifteen, which have already been sent up to the camp and for which the above figures do not give Richmond credit.

In other words, Richmond is nineteen men short of her full quota and it is now up to us to supply that number, which the board will do at once. These will be taken from a waiting list which the board has already made up, comprised of the following:

One of the number above named is at present in the county jail at Martinez, on a charge of burglary, but whether he will be held by the civil authorities or turned over to the government is for the judge of the superior court to say.

onslaught which resulted in Gouzeaucourt being enveloped for a time. Many of the Americans were caught in the German turning movement about Gouzeaucourt and only escaped death or capture by lying concealed for hours in shell holes until the British had succeeded in pushing the invaders back. Hundreds of other men from overseas were subjected to tremendous shell fire from enemy artillery and great quantities of gas shells were thrown into the territory where they were working.

Biggest Budget In World Considered By Congress

Here is a summary of the budget to be tackled by Congress—the greatest budget in the nation's history.

Total of budget, $13,500,000,000. Of this sum more than $11,000,000,000 is for war alone.

General estimates include: Military (army), $6,616,936,554. This is an increase of $1,365,907,609 over last army appropriation.

Navy, $1,014,077,503.

Estimated appropriation for signal service, including Uncle Sam's great air squadron, $1,138,240,315.

For the quartermaster corps of the army, $2,000,000,000.

For hospitals and medicines, $157,000,000.

To equip engineer troops, $135,000,000.

To cover expense of engineer troop operations in field, $892,000,000.

Of the estimated $1,000,000,000 for the navy, some items are:

Pay of officers and men, $426,000,000.

Aviation, $94,000,000.

Improving and equipping navy yards for construction of ships, $4,000,000.

Torpedoes and torpedo appliances, $1,000,000.

FIVE BILLION DOLLAR BOND ISSUE IS IN PROSPECT FOR U. S. PEOPLE

At the session of Congress which convened in Washington today there will doubtless be authorized two more issues of Liberty Bonds, which means that there will be collected from the people of the United States between this time and July 1st of next year about five billion dollars, in addition to the $3,666,000,000 from Liberty Bonds already authorized, but yet to be issued, the billion dollars or less expected from war savings campaign and about three billion dollars from war taxes.

Wide differences of opinion exist in Congress over the question of whether the bulk of the $5,000,000,000 should be raised by taxation or bond issues, but those advocating the issue of securities expect strong support from the administration. They are prepared to argue that the internal revenue bureau already is overburdened with the immense task of creating machinery for collection of the $3,400,000,000 war revenue expected before July 1, and that great confusion would result from imposition of new taxes before opportunity has been given for the existing levies to adjust themselves to the economic situation.

Taxation advocates are expected to make a fight for establishment of new taxes on certain business lines and for increases and excess profits rates. Under the present law the estimated receipts from income is $1,200,000,000, and from excess profits, $1,220,000,000.

PINOLE PIONEER DIED AT HOME LAST WEEK

Henry A. Inwood, a respected resident of Pinole, passed away at his home in this town last Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Mr. Inwood had been ill for some time, suffering the infirmities of advanced age, and his death coming at this time, was not entirely unexpected.

Deceased was a native of Watford, England, and aged 80 years. He came to California forty years ago and resided in San Francisco a greater part of this time where he followed the business of contracting. About seven years ago Mr. and Mrs. Inwood went to Pinole and have resided there ever since.

Besides a wife, Elizabeth Inwood, deceased leaves three daughters, Mrs. Nellie Barrett and Mrs. Kate State of Pinole and Mrs. Rose Tobey of San Francisco, to mourn his death.

The funeral took place Saturday, from the family residence at 1 o'clock. Interment took place in Sunset View cemetery, undertaker H. J. Curry or Martinez having charge of the burial.

They will have on sale aprons and caps and all kinds of home-made candies, just the thing for the Christmas boxes to send away to the soldier boys.

Nothing will be higher than ten cents and the refreshments will be the same price. Mrs. J. C. Leber, Mrs. Emma Rowe and Mrs. C. Stahl is the committee in charge of the sale arrangements. They are expected to have a delightful and profitable evening.

Mrs. Katherine Smith and a party of relatives spent the week end at the Smith bungalow in the Sonoma mountains, returning home yesterday evening.

HUGE PLANT MYSTIFIES PEOPLE OF THIS CITY

There is a good deal of mystery about the big manufacturing plant, said to be in the steel line, for which sites in Richmond are being inspected, as well as sites in other cities on the Coast. John H. Nicholl, who brought the representatives of the corporation to this city says he would not care to give out any information unless something tangible develops. He admits that he has offered a site on the waterfront where the Nicholl Terminal Company plans to build docks.

The representatives of the mysterious company are also considering the Shrimp Camp, which was shown them by Nicholl.

One of the plans, if the scheme goes through, is said to pipe natural gas here for use as fuel. It is known that one of the principals in the project has called on leading Standard Oil officials and on the East Shore Company representatives. It is reported that they have stated the plant will employ 4,000 men. San Diego, Los Angeles and Portland are also after it.

FINDING MONEY FOR THE WAR

Speaking on the problem of financing the war, F. W. Taussig, chairman of the federal tariff commission, says: "We have begun at the very start on a considerable scale, with tax levies heavier than those made by any other country at a corresponding stage in the great conflict. It is not only within the bounds of possibility, it is more than probable, that we shall have to resort to still greater levies, to levies more widely distributed. Yet here, as with regard to our borrowing capacity, we never know how much we can do until we know how much we have to do."

"The warfare of our time is on a stupendous scale, and calls for stupendous expenditure. But in the present situation and the present prospects we find much that may lead us to take heart for meeting these expenditures."

He finds comfort in our vast wealth, in our smoothly-working federal reserve banking system which provides plentiful, well regulated credit facilities, and in the readiness of the people to lend their funds to the government and endure heavy taxation cheerfully. But he adds a word of warning:

"Our loans and our taxes already mean that we must begin to restrict and curtail, must learn to dispose with luxuries and comforts, perhaps with some things which we regarded as necessities. Every community must adjust itself and its expenditures to the needs of war through a gradual process. We have entered only on the first stage."

It's the same old story, of which men and women, grow weary perhaps through much repetition. But it has to be taken to heart. Thrift—thrift—thrift—that is what we need to win the war. We must turn from our prodigality and develop a new economic habit, until thrift becomes second nature to us.

Nobody asks us to stint ourselves to the point of malnutrition, of shabbiness, of ill health and depleted energy. That would be suicidal. We must live and work, and commerce and industry must continue. Otherwise there would be nothing produced from which to buy war bonds and pay war taxes. But there is still, in the case of most individuals and most communities, a wide margin between present expenditures and fundamentally necessary expenditures, and that margin must be wiped out.

Private spending, private consumption, should be only for health, strength and efficiency. It is no time for self-indulgence. Luxury can be postponed till we have finished the grim business we are in: The safety of civilization, the preservation of our freedom and ideals and self-respect, the prospect of a desirable and prosperous future depend on our money for the war fund.

NEW RELIGIOUS CRUSADE

"Today a growing interest in religion is evident all over the world," according to a recent editorial by William Allen White, in the Emporia, Kan., Gazette. "Three years ago, when the present war had been in progress but a few months and many people had been discussing the real causes of the war, an Emporia business man who reads outside of business hours and thinks much of what he reads, said: 'I believe this war has been brought about by a neglected Jesus Christ.'"

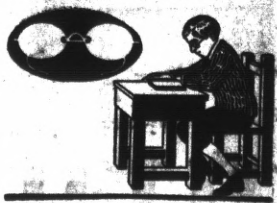

"Men are stopping to think, even in the midst of turmoil, and a great change is evident in the ordinary man's conception of religion. Some of it is constructive thinking that does not subscribe blindly to creed and dogma, but which is working out a higher meaning for religious faith and a greater sense of religious obligation than this world has ever known."

"Evidences of this thinking are frequent. The man who signs himself 'Vox Populi,' and 'Constant Reader,' and sends communications to his newspaper is discussing his conception of religion and his own discovery of a personal religion. Fathers of American boys with the colors are taking time from their own affairs to reason upon the beginning of this war and the spiritual state of the world. In England, where almost every home has lost a son, books are being written in this new field by men who are masters of other provinces of learning, and all of them get back to the basic principle that a universal neglect of the teachings of Jesus Christ has something to do with this war."

"These new thinkers all reconcile Christianity with the war because Christianity is democratic. They are arguing, as they write their newspaper communications and magazine articles, that a world in sympathy with the teachings of Jesus Christ would never have suffered the great fester of Prussian cruelty to grow unchecked until it became a world menace. And they realize that the first duty of a Christian world is to check the physical as well as the moral forces of evil."

"That is why there is no blasphemy when the youth of England and the youth of America march off to war singing 'Onward, Christian Soldiers!'"

Mr. White has just returned from a visit to the front for the American Red Cross. His words are apropos to the campaign now on among the churches to contribute to the spiritual preparedness of the American Army by

MILITARY PLAY ATTRACTION AT LOCAL THEATER

The actor playing the dashing young German lieutenant in Billie Burke's Paramount production of "Arms and the Girl" which is appearing at the Richmond Theatre today and tomorrow suffered under a terrible handicap in his acting and the fact that he kept this from the watchful eye of camera proves his histrionic ability. Being a thorough Britisher, it was difficult to make the least for him to adopt the goose-step and other German military atrocities.
Wee, winsome Billie Burke personifies independent Young America in Belgium at the outbreak of the present great war in the same picture. Her experiences in this thrilling photoplay are typical of that of American girls stranded at the outset of the war in Europe, many of whom missed the pleasant adventures that happened to Miss Burke.

ANNIVERSARY

who reached her tenth birthday.
The home was prettily decorated in pink and white.
The afternoon was spent in games and dancing and music. Special fancy dances were given by Alice Anderson. At the conclusion of the festivities refreshments were served.
The little hostess was the recipient of many pretty presents.
Those who attended were: Hilda
Hansen, Walter Selgel, Franklin
Selgel, Alice Anderson, Lesh Selix, Ruth Selix, Dorothy Selix, Rosamond Stanley, Patricia Stanley, Myr-le Crisler, Ruth Miller, Verona
Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick,

ORPHEUM SHOW BEST SEEN IN MANY MOONS

Turkey and wild duck on one bill of fare is some dinner—and the vaudeville bill at the Orpheum this week is just like that. Nan Halperin is the turkey and Sophie Tucker the Wild Duck—she's some duck and some wild, too. She is the Wild Woman of Harmony—she puts more "Jazz" into melody than anyone in the world—she is a spectacularist in ragtime. No wonder they call her the Mary Garden of it, and her "Jazz" musicians the Kings of syncope. It was a hilarious party last night at the Orpheum while Sophie was busy with macer-ated harmonies and "peppy" songs.
As to the Thanksgiving turkey—not quite as game but something that tickles every palate in a more subtle way—there was Nan Halperin. Miss Halperin is art, through and through. She is Vaudeville's sweetheart. To see her is to adore her. That's personality. They say she even leaves broken hearts among the stage hands when she leaves a town—it is certain that she does it when people see her from the front. She is the most adored girl in the show business. That's her personality. Now, as to her art.
She is one of the cleverest performers on the stage today, and her impressions, rendered via song, go all the way from youth to old age. She makes a charming little girl—and her characterization of an old grandmother is just as real and just as lovable. Everything Nan Halperin does is lovable—hence she is one of the biggest of the Orpheum headliners of the year.

Frank Westphal says he is not a regular actor, and to prove it he refuses to act. He is a master hand at not acting and getting away with it—wherefore there is some suspicion that the gentleman really is a pretty fair actor after all. But that's just a suspicion. At any rate no one can afford to miss his act.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Burne offer a wide-awake episode under the title
"On the Fourth Floor." It is a laugh and a few more laughs—a full house of laughs instead of only one floor of them. Lolotte, the skating bear, is a remarkably trained animal that makes as big a hit as some of the human actors. The Hughes Musical Trio offers a pleasing collection of numbers rendered with rare artistry. Lloyd and Britt have a merry bit of patter with a few songs and novelties intermixed for good measure. A Pathe weekly rounds out the bill.

Fay Frymire, accompanied by his cousin, Ernest Powell, was here over the week visiting home from San Jose, where Miss Frymire is attending the state normal school. Mr.
Powell is a merchant of Mountain View.

eminent, if not the most eminent, of Domestic Scientists—has just completed a series of articles of vital interest and value to housewives.

This series of articles—we are glad to announce—will appear in the columns of this paper.
These articles contain the very information needed in the wise selection of baking ingredients. They are educational in the extreme. They point out purchasing and baking errors. They show how to get the best results from the least amount of ingredients. They explain the reasons for economic baking and to produce more delicious results.
The housewife who reads these articles and follows Miss Costello's advice, certainly will come better cook and effect a saving in her baking costs.
Miss Costello tells to you in terms of facts based on long experience that every chemistry that she is a graduate of the University of Chicago

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS AND CERTIFICATES NOW ON SALE AT RICHMOND POSTOFFICE

Postmaster Stairley has received Richmond's consignment of "thrift stamps" which are designed during the next twelve months to raise $2,000,000,000 throughout the nation. The opening gun which is to net Uncle Sam for war purposes was fired today, the idea being to enlist every school child throughout the nation to save his dimes and pennies for the war and it is expected that each child will buy at least one 25-cent stamp and a great many more, if possible.

Savings stamps and certificates are to be sold in stores, schools, public buildings, banks and post offices in amounts sufficient to raise the money required over the space of a year. John S. Drum of the Savings Union and Trust Company of San Francisco has been appointed State director for Northern California by the War Savings committee, and will direct the drive, for this section.

The War Savings Committee has issued the following explanatory statement of the campaign:

"With the approach of the Christmas season and the year 1918 Uncle Sam has a new suggestion to make in the vital matter of war finance, a suggestion that should appeal to all Americans, young and old, rich and poor.

WAR STAMP OFFERING

"This suggestion takes the form of a $2,000,000,000 offering of War Savings Stamps, which will be placed on sale in all post offices December 3 and will remain on sale for a year.

"Northern California's share of this new war chest fund is $60,000,000, distributed among 49 counties. The campaign for the sale of the stamps will be carried on by the War Savings Committee of which John S. Drum is chairman.

"War-saving stamps were conceived to open to persons that could not buy Liberty bonds, even on the installment plan, an opportunity to take part in the financial side of beating Germany. Thrift stamps were added to the plan so folks could buy their war-savings stamps, which will be sold during December and January for $4.12, 25 cents at a time.

"Start your friend on the road to thrift by giving him a war-savings certificate for Christmas. In the advice of Drum, The Christmas idea amounts to fit into the form of the savings certificate like this:

SAVING CERTIFICATE

"For the convenience of war-time savers, the government has arranged a war-saving certificate on which spaces for pasting twenty of the $5 stamps are grouped about a blank for identification of the owner. A man that wants to start his son or daughter of an individual war-savings campaign has only to purchase one stamp, paste it on the square numbered 1, fill in the name, and address and hang it on the Christmas tree.

"When the recipient of the gift has signed the certificate it becomes his property, to have and to hold until January 1, 1923, or any day before that date he may desire to exchange it for cash at any money order post office in the land. Once signed, the certificate is not transferable; this is one gift that can't be exchanged in the after-Christmas rush.

"In the beginning Drum seeks to impress on the great and small, of the land these things:

"During December and January war-savings stamps of a face value of $5 will be offered for sale at $4.12. They will be payable by the government January 1, 1923, at $5. On the first day of each month, beginning February 1, 1918, the price of stamps will be advanced one cent; that is because the date of maturity is one month nearer.

"The stamps will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent, compounded quarterly. It is the highest interest offered by the government, and it is offered on the government's best secured investment. Bonds may go below par, but the value of war-savings stamps is fixed, and nothing can change it.

"If the holder of stamps desires to exchange them for cash before they mature, any postoffice in the country will take them up and pay the interest at the rate of about 3 per cent during December or January for $4.12 will be redeemed in January, 1919, for $4.34.

"The government will advance the price of stamps from month to month, but it works: Last year as the price advanced so will the redemption price advance. "War-savings certificates are non-transferable. No person may hold stamps to the value of more than $1,000, and no person may buy more than twenty $5 stamps at one time. The government seeks to prevent a corner on its best securities by capitalists; the stamps are aimed to reach the small investors.

OFFER BABY BROTHER

"Thrift stamps will be offered for sale at 25 cents each. If the war-savings stamp is the baby brother of the Liberty bond, so the thrift stamp is the baby brother of the war-savings stamp. Thrift stamps may be collected on thrift cards furnished by the government, and when a person has sixteen of them, representing a total value of $4, he may add the difference to make up the current price of a war-savings stamp and exchange them for one of the $5 kind to his war-savings certificate.

"Thrift stamps bear no interest. They are calculated to attract to the nation's war chest the pennies and dimes, and quarters that might otherwise go into the toy bank on the mantel. And while they are working, for the government they will work also for the original owner, through the route of war-savings stamps and interest at the rate of 4 per cent, compounded quarterly.

"The government offers the privilege of registering war-savings certificates without cost to the holders. Registration at any post office will insure payment in case the certificate is lost, but the stamps will be redeemed only at the office and all stamps purchased after the certificate is registered must also be registered at the same office.

"If the certificate is not registered it may be redeemed, or additional stamps may be placed on it in any post office. Thrift cards may not be registered. Neither may war-savings stamps not attached to certificates.

DOLLARS, DIMES POWER

"The idea of the war-savings plan, as it was outlined to Drum in Washington, is for the people of the United States to turn over to the government for the purposes of war the economic power which their times and quarters and dollars command.

"Drum has established the offices of the War Savings Committee at 742 Market street. From the nerve center will spread a campaign that will seek to educate each and every man, woman and child in the 49 counties of Northern California to save his country. Of that, President Wilson, discussing the plan with department heads in Washington, said the other day:

"I suppose not many fortunate by-products can come of a year, out of this country can learn something about saving out of the war, it will be worth the cost of the war; I mean the literal cost of it in money resources.

"The war-savings stamp and the thrift stamp are designed to teach that lesson."

I Could Not Fool My Wife

When I came home with my new overcoat. She said I either had it tailor-made or I had bought it at CHERRY'S. It is one of the new trench kind that can be worn with or without the belt, big convertible collar and massive patch pockets, the kind you see advertised in all the fashion books, and CHERRY'S sells them on such easy payments—only a few dollars down and a little each week or month. 638 18th St. Ladies' store, 515 13th St.—Adv.

RICHMOND ASTONISHED BY MERCHANT'S STORY

A merchant relates the following: "For years I could not sleep without turning every hour. Whatever I ate caused gas and sourness. Also had stomach catarrh. ONE SPOONFUL buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler's Kaibler's me INSTANTLY." Because Adler's Kaibler's the ENTIRE alimentary tract it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. C. E. Niederker, druggist.

LOCAL WOMEN COMMENDED BY RED CROSS

Mrs. E. B. Smallwood, who has charge of the Red Cross workroom activities of the local chapter wants the information conveyed to the ladies who are doing knitting for the Christmas boxes to have the work in at the Ninth street rooms by the latter part of the week, so that they may be included in the Christmas boxes for the soldiers. These have to be in readiness the fore part of the week following for shipment and the ladies are anxious to get them away on time.

In this connection it may be well to add that Mrs. Smallwood is in receipt of a letter from the Red Cross headquarters in San Francisco commending the local chapter on the excellence of its work. Everything thus far has been satisfactory in every respect, not one garment having been rejected on account of bad workmanship.

NATURE'S WARNING

Richmond People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come mysteriously. But nature generally warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediment, Passages frequent, scanty, painful.

It's time to fear serious kidney trouble. It's time to use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Doan's have done great work in Richmond.

T. P. Cummings, 1714 Macdonald avenue, Richmond, says: "I suffered from backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint. When I stooped I often got a ketch in the small of my back and I could hardly raise up. My kidneys acted irregularly. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured the backache and regulated my kidneys."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Cummings had. Foster-Wilbur Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork become sluggish; the eliminative juices clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night if you suffer with sick headache or dizziness, rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Tomorrow, I. L. Dearborn, secretary of the Merchants' Association, is to go to his mine in Placer county to do a little work and show the property to a party of capitalists who are interested in it. He thinks he has a good quartz property and one which will return a large amount of money to the owner if properly handled.

Her Wish Was Granted

She wanted a new suit, but did not have the money to pay all cash. She went to CHERRY'S, bought a dandy new winter suit, had her pick of any new winter suit in the store at a big reduced price, made a small payment down, and arranged to pay the balance a little each week. 515 13th St. Men's store, 528 13th St.—Adv.

Housewives Now More Than Ever Before Realize the Importance of Purity in Food Products

While on my lecture tours, meeting housewives in all sections of the country—I have observed that women are now wide awake to the vital necessity of utmost purity in articles of food.

It used to be that unscrupulous manufacturers were at liberty to foist rankly adulterated food stuffs on the unsuspecting housewife. This production of low grade, frequently worthless and often injurious merchandise gained such strides that the government stepped in with Pure Food legislation and checked it. This measure of protection aroused housewives to the situation and the importance of purity in articles of table use. And as a result of this awakening wise housewives have set a higher standard of purity than the Food Laws demand. The federal and state authorities have cut off to a great extent the manufacturer of products of an injurious nature. The great majority of housewives have gone even farther—and insist on absolute purity.

Take Baking Powder for example. There are many different brands of baking powders on the market. All that are on the market are made within the limits of the law—are as pure as the law demands.

But there are other things to be taken into consideration—will they give the best results—are they economical to use?

The housewife now insists that baking powder be as pure as it can be made. That it possess no impurities—no adulterants—no useless fillers—no injurious properties of any sort. They want—and are entitled to—a baking powder so proportioned and blended it remains pure in the baking.

After testing many different brands of baking powders, I am thoroughly convinced that Calumet Baking Powder extends far beyond the standards of purity demanded by the food laws.

Critical experiments establish the fact that Calumet leaves no harmful residue, as do many powders that comply with pure food requirements. The bakings it produces are not only light, fluffy and tasty—but wholesome and healthful—which really is the final test of a baking powder's purity.

The housewife of today wants something better than "just as good." She wants the best, and in my articles on Baking Powder I have no hesitancy in recommending Calumet.
